DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-27, drawn to a method of making a deep drawn product.

Group II, claim(s) 28-31, drawn to a sputtering target.

Group III, claim(s) 32 and 33, drawn to a finite element calculation.

Group IV, claim(s) 34-36, drawn to a method of making a plate.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: group I claims lack a sputtering target with a collar welded to a portion thereof.

The inventions listed as Groups I and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: group III claims lack a deep drawing method. Group III claims are applicable to any manufacturing process such as machining, bending, cutting, abrading to form a pot shaped product.

The inventions listed as Groups I and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: group IV claims lack a deep drawing method, the plate of group IV cannot be the same inventive concept as a pot as recited in group I claims unless it is shaped.

The inventions listed as Groups II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: group III claims lack a sputtering target formed by deep drawing. Group III claims are applicable to any manufacturing process such as machining, bending, cutting, abrading to form a pot shaped product.

The inventions listed as Groups II and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: group IV claims lack a sputtering target formed by deep drawing, the plate of group IV cannot be the same inventive concept as the target as recited in group II claims unless it is shaped.

The inventions listed as Groups III and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: group III claims lack a plate forming method comprising rolling and forging. Group III claims are applicable to any manufacturing process such as machining, bending, cutting, abrading to form a pot shaped product.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
